Breakwater Plans Made

PAHOKEE—Presenting three layout plans for a new breakwater, Engineer Kenneth C. Mock Monday night told a called meeting of City Council that his firm recommended locating the structure between the channel and the levee and tying it to the levee at the northeast end.

In addition to the recommended "Plan C," to cost an estimated $121,000, Mock presented plans for "A," placing the breakwater between the channel and the levee with openings at each end, and for "B," placing the structure on the northwest or lake side of the channel at a distance not to exceed 1,000 feet from the levee.

Council took under advisement the plans and recommendations, and may act on them next week.

22 Ft. Elevation
Prefacing his presentation of plans, Mock's report pointed out that the 1,000-foot breakwater would have a crown elevation of 22.0 feet MSL, based on FCD and Engineers Lake. The most severe conditions, short of hurricanes, would be a lake elevation stage of 18 feet with winds of 30 mph, producing a wind tide of one foot with three foot high waves to be expected.

As the structure is designed to spill water over the top, the run-up water will run over in small quantities causing no damage to the structure or boats moored behind it," the engineer reported said.

The engineers recommended that the breakwater be built as a rubblemound type similar to the existing levee, with slopes and crown paved with concrete. Rip-rap and the critical points ripp-rapped against erosion, as the most economical construction.

Increased FHP Activity In Jan.

TALLAHASSEE—Florida Highway patrol January activities showed marked increases statewide in arrests and written warnings, Comdr. H. N. Kirkman said this week.

Patrol troopers arrested 22 percent more people than for a like period last year and wrote 20 percent more warnings. Traffic accidents of motorists, Kirkman said.

The number of wrecks showed a 1 percent increase, but the number killed in those wrecks shot downward 22 percent. The number injured showed a 17 percent increase climb, however, Kirkman said.

On an overall basis the figures shaped up this way: January wrecks 1,513 against 1,294 last year in the same month; number killed 45 and 58; number injured 781 against 67; arrests 4,710 and 3,847; written warnings 7,009 and 5,822; faulty equipment corrections (a decrease over January, 1954) were 7,419 against 8,302.

The Weight Section reported that its men weighed 28,659 trucks and found 285 overweight. Their owners were assessed $26,974. All activities of the Weight Section showed marked increases last month over January, 1954.

FIRE VICTIM IN CRITICAL CONDITION

PAHOKEE—The condition of Willie Robinson, 60-year-old Negro, burned in a fire at Unity Farms quarters Monday, was said to be critical at OBSERVER press time.

Robinson, suffering second degree burns on his upper body, was rescued from his burning house by neighbors before Pahokee Volunteer Fire Department arrived to put out a blaze of inferno which had spread. Bobby Shackford, Charles Brown, Dave Cunningham, Elsworth Keen, Paul Collier, Jack Phillips, George Johnson and Leo Maxwell responded to the fire siren to assist Fire Chief Marvin Levins in extinguishing the blaze that destroyed Robinson's house before it spread to adjoining quarters. Levins said a lack of water pressure deterred the firemen's best efforts to put out the original fire. Police Officer R. D. Sappington took Robinson to Everglades Memorial Hospital.

CANALS, COWS IN TRAFFIC REPORTS

Canals and cows continued to be driving hazards in the Glades, according to reports by the Florida State Highway Patrol this week.

Saturday morning William Sumi, of Ft. Worth, apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his Chrysler and ran off SR 700 into the drainage canal 10 miles south of Canal Point. Charged with "driving on the wrong side of the road," Sumi sustained painful injuries and his car was reported by Trooper J. E. Hicks FHP to be a total loss.

A passenger, Miss Barbara Auburger, suffered pelvic injuries. Saturday night O. L. Medley, Belle Glade, rounded a curve 3.5 miles south of Belle Glade on SR 527 and killed a cow that was wandering on the highway. The '49 Ford owned by Samuel Dunn, Belle Glade, driven by Medley, sustained less than $800 damage, according to Trooper Clifford Clifton's FHP report. The cow had no mark or brand, the report states.

The 13-week series started last night and will continue through May 19. A Rotary film "The Great Adventure" will be shown on WTVJ-TV Sunday from 1 to 1:30 p.m.

PAHOKEE—Earlier hours for the City Clerk's office for the convenience of farmers and other workers were announced this week by City Clerk Dorothy Graham, to begin Mar. 1.

From next Tuesday through the remainder of the season, the Clerk's office will open at 7:30 a.m. Monday through Saturdays, Mrs. Graham said.

Closing hours will continue to be 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and noon on Saturdays. Beicher will serve as president of the club in 1955-56.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON—Florida people are aware of the latent dangers in our commitments in the Far East, and generally support the government's decision on Formosa.

This is my conviction as I conclude a two-week visit which I have spent in south Florida and along the Florida west coast.

Some of those who are looked to for leadership have sought to offset our decision to firmness with oratory assuring the people that this cannot be done. This is sophistry taken to the highest degree. In no sense is it completely honest to say that the United States could defeat Red China, with comparative ease, within a 30-day period. It is not in keeping with the facts to say that there is no possibility of a real alliance between Red China and Russia.

Those who in misguided apprehension about the comfort and equanimity of the people of the United States make these statements are running the risk of lulling the people into a false sense of security. The free people of this nation need no such coddling. They are capable of facing the facts, and of meeting any issue which may arise. Hundreds of Florida people have assured me of that.

Another thing Florida people with whom I have talked favor, is the program which is being accelerated to bring our America nations closer to the United States, within our traditional pattern of private enterprise. Many regard the program as our government's apparent niggardly attitude toward dealing dollars out lavishly to faraway nations. For the most part, people seem to realize that the "Good Neighbor" program has real meaning and importance to continued prosperity in Florida, and the nation.

"THE VINTAGE YEARS": R. B. Beckman, the youthful looking elder citizen who writes so knowingly of life after 65, was a visitor here last week. He is now a recruit with me behind the proposal, pending in the Senate, to establish a Commission to study problems of life after retirement.

As many of you know, I have joined with a number of my colleagues in urging that special studies be made of this subject, to enable our society to balance again its "tables of usefulness." I am convinced that this bill will be enacted into law.

In approaching this subject, there are several principal points to keep in mind. First, this is a problem of society and not simply of our elder citizens. Second, our free society has a great deal to gain by evaluating its age-work standards, and devising a formula for retaining in use a vast reservoir of wisdom, experience and ability not now being fully utilized. Walter B. Pitkin created a sensation a few years ago with his book, "Life Begins at Forty." Now it is generally recognized that many reach the zenith of their mental powers much later in life. I know individuals for whom new vistas and new experience of creation have come after 65. Florida is rich in talent and wisdom in her elder citizens. If the purpose of this legislation is served, we will find a way to use their powers to the betterment of society.

FASCELL HANDIWORK: Navy officials here are still talking about Florida's new Fourth District Congressman for the deftness with which he handled the potentially explosive issue of the West which came before Secretary Thomas.

Navy was about ready to take drastic action on serious reports of trouble between service and civilian leaders when Rep. Dante Fascell entered the case. Ten days and a dozen conferences later, Key West officials and the Navy brass were passing compliments back and forth. Dante, in an effect, turned a threatening hurricane into a pleasant consequence for all concerned. I was pleased to have a small part in settling the misunderstandings.

Latest development: Navy now is convinced Key West will accept a plan to reduce personnel at this southernmost U. S. base.

Get yourself another dog. I may just be saying that to the bosses if I present plans go through.

For unless they feed me a little more, and let me sleep a little longer, I'll sell out to TELEVISION.

Ugh. On the other hand, the really big-bone jobs are in TV, I see by the Chicago Tribune.

If Lassie can do it, so can I. When I told the bosses that Rin Tin Tin was on the cable now, they just laughed. They said practically anybody would know that Rin Tin Tin expired years ago. "That was the Rin Tin Tin of your generation," I told 'em. "This is the Rin Tin Tin of my (younger) generation."

They studied a minute, with that tempus fugit look on their faces and stopped arguing with me.

The piece I read said that Roy Rogers dog Bullet is fascinating more people than Trigger, too. I've seen Neil, the dog on the Topper show, and sure envied him the way he can vanish out of reach of the folded newspaper or a leash.

Al yes, the big-time. I can see it now.

The Schatzi Show, with Jackie Gleason. . . I Love Schatzi. . . Our Miss Schatzi. . .

GRAPEFRUIT PROMOTION: Congress tasted Florida's best grapefruit this week. In a special promotion scheme cooked up between the Florida Citrus Commission and the Florida Delegation, Members of the House and Senate were served free Florida grapefruit with their meals yesterday. The fruit was furnished by the Florida Citrus Commission. It was carefully selected from the groves of A. B. Michael, commission member from Wabasco.

Washington end of the program was handled by Syd Herlong on the House side and Senators Holland and Smathers for the Senate. Each table in the Capitol Hill dining rooms carried a small fold-over card which read: "Florida Grapefruit. Enjoy grapefruit fresh from the sunny groves of Florida. Now at the peak of their season—luscious with refreshing flavor—rich in health giving vitamin C."

Served today with the compliments of the Florida Citrus Commission. This was followed by a list of the Congressmen for the House side and by the Senators for the Senate side. As one wag said, "That bit of Florida publicity ought to hit somebody in the eye."

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 2 Invest a Little Time In Saving Tax $$$$

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants.)

"Why should I bother with that old tax form?" asked a young lady who started on her first job in December. "I don't need to because I got less than $800." "You don't need to," her father explained, "but it will cost you money if you don't. How do you expect to get back the tax that was withheld from your pay?"

Do You Have To File?

Here are the rules to help you decide whether you must file a federal income tax return:

1. If your gross income was $400 or more in 1954, you must file a return.
2. If you had $400 or more income from self-employment, you must file a return to report these earnings for social security purposes.
3. If you had any salary or wages from which withholding was deducted by your employer, you must file a return to get credit for the tax withheld.

Married Couples

Generally it's best for married couples to file joint returns instead of separate individual returns. Because the joint return gives them the advantage of income-splitting. The joint return of a married couple applies to half their total taxable income.

Head of Household

If you are supporting a dependent, although you are single, widowed, divorced or legally separated, you may be able to qualify as a "head of household" and figure your tax on a lower basis. The husband does not live with you.

Incidentally, if your husband or wife died in 1953 or 1954 and you have as a member of your household a dependent child or stepchild, you are now entitled as a "surviving spouse" to the same income-splitting benefits this year as persons who have had on a joint return—unless you remarried before the end of 1954. Your privileges to file as a surviving spouse applies to the first two years following the year in which your husband or wife died.

Choosing the Right Form

The simplest tax return is a small card, Form 1040A, on which you furnish a minimum amount of information and leave it to the government to figure your tax. This is all right if you are sure you can't save by itemizing your deductions and if you are not a "head of household."

You may also use Form 1040A if your total income was less than $5,000, consisting only of wages, dividends and interest. And if all but $100 or less is listed on your tax. Form 1040 you figure your own tax. It may be used as a "short cut" when you itemize deductions. It allows you approximately 10% of your income to be deducted for medical, dental, taxes, interest paid, charitable, and other deductions. If your income in 1954 was $5,000 or more you must use Form 1040.

Be sure to read the official instructions to the forms. You can also get from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult only qualified tax advisers.

CITRUS AND CATTLE IN FLORIDA

Citrus and cattle in Florida date from the time of the Spanish conquest. Neither industry was of commercial importance until modern times although each may be said to have been sponsored by Columbus and his fellow voyagers.

Sour oranges, citrons and lemons were undoubtedly brought to the New World by Columbus. From trees that flourished in the West Indies it is likely that fruit was brought to Florida by Spanish settlers.

In 1579, according to A. F. Camp, writing in the Florida Handbook, there were extensive citrus plantings near St. Augustine. Apparently Indians obtained fruit near there and ate it along their trails and paths into the hammocks and heavily forested areas. Many years after the first Spanish period in Florida sour orange trees were found growing in the interior, likely the seedlings from the seeds dropped by Indians.

Sweet oranges appear to have been planted along the waterways of north Florida. Transportation of the citrus was solely by water in that time. The groves appear to have been planted near water not as a calculated protection against frost but rather near an accessible means of transport.

Cattle as a business enterprise flourished after the War Between the States. Seedling orange trees were often planted in the fenced enclosures where cattle were brought for branding and marketing. Many fine seedling groves were "cow-penned" in those early years of the industry, according to Camp.

According to G. H. Dacy in Four Centuries of Florida Ranching, reported by Dr. T. J. Cunha of the Florida State Experiment

LOOKING INTO THE FACTS...

In a recent article, Dr. T. J. Cunha of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station said, "After she has dropped her calf a cow may not be able to provide enough milk for her calf unless she is given additional feed when pastures are brown and sparse. If the calf doesn't get enough milk, it's likely to be a runt. The calving season is the most crucial of the year for cow and calf." Dr. Cunha also added, "... cattlemen should also treat the navels of the calves with iodine to prevent infection."

JAYCEE 'FAMILY' CONTEST STARTS

BELLE GLADE — Joe Zie-man, Jaycee chairman of the contest to select the local "Ideal" family for participation in the "All-Florida Family Contest" finals in Miami Beach, said this week that entries were beginning to pour in to the contest headquarters.

The "ideal" family selected by the contest judges will be sent on an all-expense paid trip to Miami Beach during April, to compete with "ideal" families from other communities, for the title of "All-Florida Family."

The "All-Florida Family Contest" is being co-sponsored by the 90 chapters of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce and the "Florida Speaks and Sunrise" magazine, the family magazine of Florida living.

The contest is open to any resident of Florida who has lived in the state for one year or longer. The Jaycees pointed out that entry blanks may be obtained free of charge and no entry fee or purchase of any item is necessary to enter the contest. All the entrant is required to do, is to answer a few non-personal questions, and mail in the entry blank to the contest headquarters.

Local merchants are distributing the blanks or they may be obtained from any Jaycee member.

Big Doings on the Griddle

High, wide and so delicious! That's the way to have your pancakes. With the help of 40% Bran flakes go them up BIG, in fact double the size you ordinarily make them. Layer each with applesauce, stack and cut like a cake. Then, bring on the sausage and you'll have a wonderful Sunday-morn supper. Hold on to this idea for Lenten fasting and instead of applesauce, "frost" your cakes with creamy cottage cheese seasoned with grated orange rind or a little orange juice.

SAUCY PANCAKES

1 1/2 cups milk
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour, mixing only until smooth. Add shortening and flakes. Bake on a hot griddle using generous 1/4 cup butter for each large pancake. Stack in pile, spreading thick sweetened applesauce between cakes. Sprinkle top with brown sugar. Cut in pie-shaped wedges to serve. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Instead of greasing the griddle, rub it with a little bag of salt, before baking each batch of cakes. This keeps cakes from sticking and saves grease. For salt bag, tie 1/4 cup salt in cheesecloth.

BY PAHOKEE GUARDSMEN

Pahokee National Guardsmen paid for the coffee and doughnuts Monday after drill at the Armory in Belle Glade.

Both Clewiston and Belle Glade recruited a new guardsmen and Pahokee failed to enlist a man. According to mutual consent, the community recruiting the fewest men pays for the refreshments. Herbert W. Carter, Clewiston and Edward E. Robinson, Belle Glade, were recruited in the membership drive Co. E, 21st Infantry, is conducting with a goal of 100 men. So far more than 60 men have indicated their willingness to help "Keep Up Our Guard" and turn out for weekly drills.

Dividends In Today's Grocery Basket!

Every time Mrs. Consumer shops she receives valuable dividends from her modern grocery basket. As President of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Dividends like . . . the convenience of having so much of the work done in the manufacturer's kitchen, making available a whole long line of easy-to-do products like baking mixes, instant coffee, and frozen fruit juice concentrates. And think of the advantage in having kitchen messes eliminated . . . fewer details, less measuring, less waste materials to be discarded.

better nutrition, in more readily meeting our needs for proteins, vitamins and minerals through constant research by food processors to conserve these valuable elements. On-the-spot processing at a perfect stage of ripeness or maturity also contributes greatly to our getting maximum nutritional benefits from today's grocery basket.

greater selection of grocery products in the stores, which simplifies planning for the homemaker and makes it easily possible for her to provide a variety of well-balanced meals.

packaging in sizes to meet family requirements, and to avoid waste. Less frequent shopping is necessary because packages store more conveniently and are less bulky to carry.

high uniform quality, as a result of careful laboratory control, and maintained by constant testing . . . quality that can now be preserved over unbelievably long periods due to modern processing.

the tremendous saving of time in the ready-to-serve foods which take only a few minutes' preparation. Not so very long ago it took 5 1/2 hours a day to prepare meals for a family of four. Today, comparable meals of heat-and-serve foods can be prepared in only about 1 1/2 hours . . . a saving of about 4 hours a day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Culberson and family of West Palm Beach were the guests Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Howell, Canal Point, and his mother, Mrs. Ada Culberson.

Overgrazing Is

Pasture Danger

By Ag. News Service

GAINESVILLE — All cattlemen know that starvation of an animal or of a plant is generally due to a lack of nutrients. But, how many cattlemen know of starvation due to overgrazing? Sounds crazy? We thought so, too, but starvation by overgrazing is possible, according to Dr. J. R. Neller, soils chemist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

Animals allowed to graze too closely remove the leaves of the plant, observes Dr. Neller, and it is the leaves that enable the plant to grow and utilize soil nutrients such as nitrogen, potassium and phosphorus.

Dr. Neller explains it this way: It's well known that carbon is a necessary element for growth of plants. In fact, it makes up about one-half of the plant's weight. The only way the plant gets carbon is through its leaves. Consequently, no leaves no carbon—no carbon no plant.

Now, how does the fact fit into pasture management? Grazing too closely may leave grasses and clovers without enough leaves to grow normally. It's possible, points out Dr. Neller, that too close grazing also may cause the plants to die. Hence, pasture coverage would be lost.

Some pasture plants can be grazed more closely than others. Carpe grass and some of the Bermuda grasses grow so close to the ground that grazing animals don't strip off their leaves as completely as they do for more upright growing grasses.

One of the greatest dangers of overgrazing is with the clovers, such as white and Ladino clover. Clover leaves grow upright and are broad and fairly large, as compared with the narrow leaves of grasses. Dr. Neller suggests that cattle or other grazing animals be taken off clover pastures if they are taking off too much of the leaves.

Church Activities In The Glades

LENTEN SERIES STARTS IN BELLE GLADE

Lent is being utilized by Rev. John Clarence Petrie, vicar of St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church, Belle Glade, to set forth the main teachings of the church.

On Sunday mornings at 9 o'clock the vicar will take up the various sections of the Apostles Creed: God the Creator, Feb. 27; God the Son—Jesus, Mar. 6; God the Sanctifier—Holy Spirit, Mar. 13; Holy Scripture, Mar. 20; Holy Church, Mar. 27; The Atoning Death, Apr. 3; Resurrection, Easter Sunday.

At night the congregation will meet at 7:30 in one another's homes to recite Evensong and have lantern slide lectures on the Sacraments as follows on successive Sundays: Holy Baptism, Penance, Holy Eucharist, Holy Matrimony, Holy Orders, Holy Unction, and Confirmation, Easter night.

For having exceeded its 1954 Missionary quota by 45.45, St. John's church was placed in the distinguished service class in "The Palm Branch" monthly magazine of the diocese of South Florida. The church has also paid its full quota to the diocese and to the missionary appropriation for 1955 as of Jan. 1, a full year in advance. Father Petrie has expressed the hope of the congregation that this missionary record can be maintained in the future.

The famous Johnson Family, known as "Radio's Sweetest Singing Family", will make a personal appearance at Belle Glade Community Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The Johnson Family has been heard coast-to-coast on CBS for the past 10 years and has recorded many well known songs, both sacred and secular. These programs are all made possible for our wounded and sick men and women by a Protestant church organization known as "Programs for Hospitalized Veterans". FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

The vital need for proofs rather than mere professions of Christian power will be stressed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read at the Christian Science services on Sunday.

Selections from the Bible include the following passage from the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:16): "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify in the Father which is in heaven."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (23:1-5): "Every day makes its demand upon us for higher power rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them."

4 HORSEPOWER PER POUND

The engines which powered America's military aircraft at speeds in the neighborhood of 400 m.p.h. in World War II produced one horsepower for every pound-and-a-half of engine weight.

But, as the result of advanced research, engineering and manufacturing techniques, some of today's fighter aircraft—which travel through the air in level flight at speeds faster than sound—are powered by jet engines which weigh less than four ounces for every horsepower produced.
